

Our Stories Series

Children in Jogara Village

April 2017

Jogara Village is part of Nele Village Development Committee in the Everest Region. It is our volunteer Bal's hometown.

Most of parents in the village work in their terraced farms to make a living, but hardly put enough food on the table for their families.

It is quite common in the village that children drop out of school and work as laborers to support their families.

On the same trip to Nele Lower Secondary School in April 2017, we prepared donation items for the children in Jogara Village as well.

A welcome ceremony

Parents and children gathered at Bal's house

A welcome ceremony

Children lined up to put Khatas and garlands of Rhododendron flowers on our necks

Parents spoke to express their appreciation for our visit and donations, and advocated all parents in the village to keep their children in school.

Distributing
donation items

Children were happy to receive uniforms and stationery

Play time

A big thank-you to Lianna and Troy who donated the soccer balls

Kids and adults playing - they all had a great time

Study time

Helping kids to read or write English

Bal was happy that he could help children in his hometown

As a kid, Bal had to drop out of school and worked as a porter on the Everest Based Camp trekking route. He understands education is important, and would like to see children have an access to education.

Bal decided to donate part of profits from his trekking company, Skyway Nepal Treks, to Project iBelieve

Book trips with Skyway Nepal Treks to support Project iBelieve

Project iBelieve – a project that provides Nepali kids with an access to education

Extend your hand!

You have the power to raise them high!

Help Project iBelieve help Nepali Children

www.ProjectiBelieve.com